SCHOOL REPORT.

The School Board of the town of Weare hereby make their annual report to the citizens thereof in relation to the present condition of the schools, and the progress made during the past year.

The schools have maintained their former good standing, the pupils in most cases yielding a willing obedience to all reasonable rules and regulations. To all such the school year has been one of profit and improvement. The few who have rebelled and disobeyed are recommended to review, reconsider and change their course when they perceive they were in the wrong.

The School Board have been fortunate in securing competent and faithful teachers who have given general satisfaction with the exception of two or three instances where the discipline was not as good as it should have been. Good order in the school room is essential at all times, and any school will be far more successful with, than without it. No matter how hard a teacher works or how good the instruction if the school is not fairly well governed, it will be to a large extent a failure. Whispering and communicating make more disturbance and lead to more difficulty than all other things combined. Teachers should make constant effort to break up the pernicious habit, and in this they should be aided by all who feel an interest in the welfare of the school. Considerable progress has been made during the past year in this direction and when the too long indulged habit of whispering and communicating shall be expelled from every school room an excellent work will have been accomplished.

The custom of parents and others visiting the schools at various times is an excellent one and should not only be continued but increased, thereby encouraging both teachers and scholars in their labors. If regular attendance could by any means be secured it would be highly beneficial not only to the school in general, but to each individual scholar who would by so doing cultivate a habit of promptness and perseverance that would greatly aid them in whatever position they might be placed through life.

Several small schools have been maintained two terms in a year, the scholars having a right to attend some of the larger schools for the third term; the small classes who receive most of their instruction from the teacher and not from books making as good progress during the year in two terms, as the same classes in the large school make in three, the teacher having more time to devote to them, and the older scholars being able to overcome the distance to the larger schools have three terms. As the schools are situated at the present time it would not lengthen the larger schools to discontinue the smaller ones, as it would cost as much to carry the scholars to the larger as it does to maintain the smaller.

Some criticism has been indulged in because the number of schools has not been largely decreased, but such persons must be aware that the town is a leader and not a follower in this particular phase of the new school law, having reduced the number of school districts from twenty-six to fifteen long before the present law was passed.
